EVILL MURDER CASE SEEMS TO BE "JONAH"

trial of John Bevill, for the of his wife's parents in Sum- nty, promises to be a record- r and make much local history. soon after the fire of last Jan- which destroyed the Sumter court house, the county com- ners of said county designated e 200 feet from the old court known as the Rutland building mporary temple of justice, into the clerk of the court moved esignated said building with a that read "temporary court " all of which was set forth in inutes of the board of county sioners.

when the March term of court on the county commissioners the Rutland building too small mmodate said term of court, cted the clerk and sheriff to fix school house for said court's ms, in which building said term rt was held and there the petit grand juries for the following court were drawn.

the present or November court was about to meet, the commissioners, because school session, were compelled to other quarters, which they found old church building some 400 south of the site of the burned building.

comes in the fine Italian band legal lights employed to defend Bevill, who not only proposed stpone his trial, but eventually, sible, to quash the indictment the minutes of the board of commissioners failed to show the different moves of the court and by whose authority same was done. The defense filed a plea in abatement, setting up that no valid grand jury had been drawn for the trial of their client, and that the court was not sitting at the county seat. The State was up a stump as the contention set up disclosed the fact that the November court to try the Bevill case was outside of the designated boundry line or limits of the county seat of Sumter, which embraces 400 acres of land.

The court recognized its position and with the grace that comes from judicial reflection, withdrew from its untenable legal position, moved back to the aforesaid Rutland building, labeled "temporary court house," and all proceedings pertaining to the Bevill case up to that time were quashed, a new venire was drawn and a new grand jury empaneled to get at the facts in the case. Mrs. Bevill, wife of the defendant, who saw the shooting, was summoned to testify, which she refused to do on the ground that she was the wife of the accused. To aid and maintain the dignity of the court and to meet out justice under the laws of the State, a rule was issued against Mrs. Bevill for contempt of court, but before she could be brought into court her attorneys filed her answer, towit: that being the wife of the defendant, she refused to testify. The court held the answer insufficient and adjudged the woman in contempt of court and sentenced her to jail for 30 days. When she was taken by the sheriff her attorneys took out a writ of habeas corpus to the supreme court, which will be heard by said body within the next ten or fifteen days.

As a new venire had to be served and only one day of court remained, the court adjourned to await the action of the supreme court in the writ of habeas corpus taken out by Mrs. Bevill's attorneys.—Ocala Star.

TESTING BEE STING AS CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

ROXBURY, Mass., Nov. 9.—J. B. Webster of Mount Pleasant avenue has found a cure for rheumatism in bee stings when all other theoretical remedies had failed. He submitted himself five times to the attacks of a full hive of bees, and after a few treatments he expects to be wholly cured. When he took the first treatment, four months ago, he was bedridden and was unable to raise his left arm. Now he can walk a mile and raise his left arm fifty times above his head without fatigue.

D. E. Croft, a bee fancier, of Roxbury, first suggested the bee treatment. Croft has made a study of bee stings as applied to rheumatism. He found that the bee was used as a cure by the ancient Egyptians, the Greeks and the Romans.

"There is no secret in it," said Croft. "The formic acid injected by the bee neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. Further the stings promote circulation, as the blood rushes immediately to the part which is stung."

Webster, in desperation, decided to experiment with the bees. He said he was suffering so acutely he could not possibly be worse, and he gave himself into Croft's care. Webster was taken on a stretcher to the home of M. W. Barrett, in Hyde Park. Barrett has fifty hives, and he shifted one to the lawn in front of his house for the experiment. The patient was placed on a table beside the hive, with his left arm and left leg exposed.

Barrett struck the hive with a stick and then ran to a safe distance, and jerking a rope, lifted the hive from its base and sent out the angry bees in a swarm. They settled on Webster in hundreds and stung him until he shouted with pain. He was on the table for five minutes, when the bees stopped in the attack and began to return to the hive.

The man's arm and leg swelled to twice their normal size, but Webster felt an improvement in the rheumatism almost from the first hour. He is now taking the treatment every ten days, and he is confident he will shake off the disease. After the third treatment he was able to sit in an armchair, and after the fifth treatment he began to regain the use of his arm and leg. He has gained fifteen pounds in weight.

Each attack of the bees, Webster says, caused increased pain for a time, and Croft says the explanation of this is the decrease of the uric acid in the system. Webster began walking a month ago and now walks daily.

SHOWMAN FOUND DEAD ON RAILROAD TRACKS.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 9.—Murder is assigned as the reason for the death of Walter Hyde, an employe of the Barnum & Bailey circus, who was found decapitated and his body badly dismembered on the tracks of the Southern Railway midnight Sunday night by a fellow-workman. Hyde was last seen with a negro man, whom the police are hunting.

Coroner T. E. Young conducted an inquest, which resulted in a finding that the man met foul play, and was placed on the tracks to hide the crime.

Hyde was a native of Brooklyn, and was 29 years of age, and was a sober and steady employe.

STREAMS ARE DRYING UP IN SOUTHWEST GEORGIA

Creeks and Branches Which Have Withstood Droughts for Twenty Years Now Waterless.

ALBANY, Ga., Nov. 9.—The most serious drought that the seasons have brought in more than twenty years is now being experienced throughout the whole southwestern section of the State. Had it begun sixty days earlier and covered a corresponding period the most disastrous crop failure in the history of Georgia would have been the result.

Fortunately the crops had been placed almost beyond the reach of damage resulting from a rainless fall before the drought began. While the top crop was cut off in the cotton fields, conditions have been ideal for picking, and the first crop has been gathered to within 5 per cent of its total. It has been the best picking season in the history of South Georgia.

Hay Crop a Failure.

One of the most serious results of the dry season has been the almost complete failure of the hay crop, which has of recent years assured vast importance in the scheme of crop diversification on Southwest Georgia farms. Farmers are agreed that the hay crop is off 60 per cent or more, the drought having almost completely ruined what was an admirable prospect in mid-summer. One of the most successful haymakers in Dougherty county makes the assertion that the yield of his fields this year is less than one-third of normal.

Streams that have not been dry before since white men lived in this section have been reduced this fall to mere successions of water holes, which are slowly drying up. Coolawahee creek, which flows through portions of Calhoun, Dougherty and Baker counties, emptying into Flint river at Newton, is one of these streams. It has always withstood even the most protracted droughts of former years, but has succumbed to the present long rainless season, and not a drop of water now trickles from its bed into the river. Other streams of the same character have been dry for weeks.

There are many ponds and lakes throughout this section that have also succumbed to drought for the first time this year. The former beds of these bodies of water, composed of black muck, have been exposed to the sun for so long that great fissures have appeared and hundreds of thousands of fish have died.

Country negroes have reaped a harvest during the past few weeks. When a large pond dwindles to a puddle or two, with the water only a few inches deep and the bottom oozy black mud, dozens of negroes wade in, armed with crude seins made of guano sacks, and catch fish by the wagon load.

The disastrous fires of the past week which swept for fully twenty miles through portions of Dougherty and Calhoun counties, has served to emphasize the danger which results from the parched conditions of woods and fields. Every turpentine farm is an "armed camp." The trees that have been boxed are protected to the best of the ability of their owners to protect them, but absolutely effective safe-guarding is impossible with the woods as dry as tinder, and practically all the smaller undergrowth dead.

Weather prophets of the old school who have no better reasons to justify their conclusions than that they "read the signs," make the dire prediction that it will not rain before December. If such prophecies shall be fulfilled the calamity will be dire.

onfessing to Deception "Nobleman" Leaves Bride

W YORK, Nov. 9.—After confess- his bride of three days that he her Viscount DeOllone nor the s DePauconcourt, but that he posed on her with titles he to have bought, the young man who married Miss Ada cher, daughter of Jonas F. ber, has packed up his suit- and quitted the city.

now where he is," sobbed Mrs. one, when seen at her father's "When he told me that he t a viscount or a marquis the that came to my mind was he would have to face an ava- of criticism, and I advised him e town for a few days. He he was willing to do every- I suggested. Then he packed ase and he left Sunday By today he will be well out of the country. I am not going to say where he has gone, but he will come back when I send for him."

The bride then said that before her husband had left town he had gone to the National City Bank and drew out a large sum of money he had on deposit there, together with stocks valued at $25,000.

That the man who married the beautiful Miss Durlacher was a fake nobleman was revealed by cable dispatches from Paris. The real Viscounte DeOllone, who is at his family seat near Saint Die, in the Voiseges, issued the following statement:

"The person in question is an impostor. There exists no Marquis DeOllone except my brother, who is now in Algiers with his wife."

The confession of the bridegroom followed.

Engine Run Over Infant, But It Wasn't Hurt Much

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 9.—Without doing any more injury than inflicting a slight cut on the chin, the engine of train No. 99 on the St. Louis division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad yesterday passed over a year-old infant a short distance from Adams station, and when picked up the child was laughing.

The train was running at the rate of 10 miles an hour, when the engineer sighted a white object, which looked to him like a newspaper on the track. When he arrived closer to the object he discovered it was a small baby. He immediately threw on his emergency brake. However, this did not prevent the engine from hitting the infant, the cowcatcher striking the child on the chin, knocking the infant flat on the track.

"LEM" GETS HIS SIXTY DAYS FROM THE CITY

APPEAL BOND GIVEN AND THE CASE GIVEN TO COUNTY.

Preliminary Hearing Will Be Held Before Judge Mason on Next Tuesday Morning.

Lem Hutchinson was sentenced to sixty days in the city jail by Mayor Davis on Tuesday morning after hearing the evidence in the case, the defendant being charged with selling whiskey.

Three negroes who were present when the sale of "booze" and cigars was made testified in the Mayor's court, but the most important witnesses were Oscar Williams and S. W. White, the latter negro being the one that purchased the whiskey.

In addition to this evidence was Marshal Dell and B. M. Heckard, who testified that the marked money taken from Lem's pockets was the same as that which they had furnished White to buy the whiskey with, and this completed the case against Hutchinson, who, it is stated, is an old offender and has been many times trapped but never landed.

Following the sentence of sixty days in jail, Evans Haile, attorney for the negro, gave notice that an appeal would be taken and Mayor Davis instructed that the negro be turned over to the county authorities for the offense.

A warrant was at once issued in the name of the State against Hutchinson and he was arraigned before Judge Mason, who bound him over under an appearance bond until next Tuesday morning, the same being fixed at $300, when he will have his preliminary hearing.

Mayor Davis was fully satisfied in the case and deemed that a fine would not be sufficient for Lem, so he sentenced him to spend sixty days in the city jail, but after the appeal was taken he was turned over to the county.

MEN ARE AS HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here Is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his everyday actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner, and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket, or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal and indigestion will not bother you.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets remedy stomach troubles by supplying the one element, the absence of which the gastric juices causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They aid the stomach to digest food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood and material necessary for overcoming natural body waste.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion. If they fail we will refund your money. Three sizes: 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Parties from High Springs state that there is now more interest centered in the municipal election at that place than ever before.

Running for the position are J. O. McGriff, the present incumbent, Roscoe Osteen, formerly with the Coast Line in the capacity of yardmaster, and a new arrival in the place is the third candidate, M. W. Maples.

AMUSEMENTS

Manhattans Coming.

Thursday, November 11th, patrons will have an opportunity of greeting the Manhattan show. So favorable was the impression made by their first visit that Manager McCollum booked them for an early return. It is seldom that a company makes good all the promises heralded, but in this respect the Manhattans are the exception. Good, wholesome productions of metropolitan calibre, with special scenery for every act of every play, is the Manhattan standard, and in this respect they have more than kept their promises. One would hardly expect a popular-priced company to give shows of the kind represented, but all who witnessed the plays on their former visit were unanimous in their opinion that this company gave productions that were the equal and in some cases the superior of high-priced attractions.

They open their engagement with "Hearts of Tennessee" and a big attendance is looked forward to.

"The Servant in the House."

Manager McCollum has booked for the Baird Theatre on Thursday evening, November 18th, the most widely-discussed play of the age. This is the celebrated play, "The Servant In the House." The famous Henry Miller Associate Players, a company of all-stars, portray the characters.

This is the play that was seen for two whole years at the Savoy Theatrey in New York City; for six months at Powers' Theatre, Chicago; two months in each Philadelphia and Boston. "The Servant In the House" is now playing in London, Berlin and Vienna.

This is the first tour of the famous play and company in the South. "The Servant In the House" will be seen in St. Augustine on Monday, Nov. 15th, then it goes to Tampa and will come by special train to Gainesville for Thursday night, November 18th.

Mr. Richard A. Mitchell, the advance business manager, did not wish to play as long an engagement in Tampa as the company was scheduled for. He cancelled a night in Tampa and arranged to run the special to Gainesville so that the students in the State University and other schools could see it. It is without doubt the highest-class attraction ever to be brought to this city.

An odd feature in connection with the booking arrangements is that Gainesville will see this play before it is shown in Jacksonville. "The Servant In the House" goes from Gainesville to Palatka and then on up through Georgia. It will be brought back to Jacksonville later.

MONEY BACK.

J. W. McCollum & Co. Sell a Remedy for Catarrh on That Liberal Basis.

Breathe Hyomei over the germ-ridden membrane, and it will kill the germs, and cure catarrh.

There is no other way—you must get where the germs are before you can destroy them.

And when catarrh germs have disappeared, other things will happen; there will be no more hawking, not even in the morning; that offensive breath will disappear; there will be no more obnoxious mucous, or coughing, or sneezing, or huskiness of voice, or difficulty in breathing. All these disagreeable accessories of the demon catarrh will disappear, and as they go the glow of health will return, and all the strength and energy that was formerly used in combating the inroads of catarrh, will bring back your vitality and ambition, will make a new, healthy, happy being of you in a few weeks.

J. W. McCollum & Co. will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit for $1.00. This includes a fine inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me), and instructions for use. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Extra bottles 50 cents. And bear in mind, money back if Hyomei doesn't cure.

The man who is above his business and the man who is below it may be widely apart, but they attain the same end—failure.

The frequent revolutions in Central America show that the air down there must be heavily charged with political electricity.

Some people so crowd their minds with the thoughts of other people that they do not give their own minds a chance to work.

It very much looks as if the Astors do not intend to let the Vanderbilts and Goulds have a monopoly of scandal in high society. The idle rich seem to take as naturally to wrong living as a duck takes to water.

It is a great mistake to mollycoddle the boys. To allow them to escape their just share of labor and responsibility and to do for them what they might better do for themselves is the worst possible training for their after life.

A hundred miles of macadam roads would do more to advance the material interests of Alachua county than the expenditure of a similar sum of money for any other work that could be mentioned. There is not a more fertile county in the State, and good roads would bring new settlers to cultivate the lands and cause every nook and corner of the county to blossom as the rose.

Sixteen years ago the editor of The Sun was the owner of the only pedigreed fox terrior canine in Gainesville. Now there are a number of well-bred fox terriers in town—and hundreds of half-breeds. A well-bred fox terrior will keep your house free of rats, mice and roaches, if you allow the dog the freedom of the house, and there is not a finer pet to be found in the animal kingdom. They can be taught to do anything, but require almost as much attention as a baby.

Because there is no law against fowls running at large in the city limits some people take delight in seeing their chickens devastate the flower beds of their neighbors who take pride in beautifying their premises. An old hen with a brood of chickens destroys the work of a year of the good wife who has got the front yard to where it is admired by all persons who view it—and the owner of the hen and her brood "jes laffs." Can you imagine anything more exasperating?

Perhaps it is easier to blame than to praise. Certainly it is so with people who find fault with their local paper for one or two errors they may find in it, and who never think of praising it for the many things that are accurate and true and for the abundant news it gives. A local paper is one of the live assets of a place. It is the recognized and best medium for imparting news; it is ever ready to boom the town, to further its interests, to say a good word for its citizens, and to let the outside world know that the community in which it is published is on the face of the earth and doing something.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE.

There is no doubt that if farmers would make farm life more attractive and less of dreary drudgery, says The Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer, the boys who are suited to be farmers would be attracted to the farm and would return there after getting the proper education. But the duty of the farmer, as it is the duty of every man, is to give his boys and girls the very best education he can. An education that will educate not only the mind but train the hands to enable the man to do something that the world needs having done. The fact that a boy has been raised on the farm does not mean that he is always the man for the farm. His education may open to him lines of usefulness in which he will make a better success than on the farm itself, and, if he has the advantage of a good agricultural college education, agriculture will be all the better if he finds that he is better suited to be a scientist in the science on which agriculture is founded, than if he returned to the farm with a longing to be engaged in those scientific pursuits. The experiment stations look to the college to train men for their work, and the farms need the trained investigators in the stations fully as much as they need farmers on the farms.

Give the boy the real practical education and then let him take his natural bent, for if he was cut out for a farmer he will get to the farm eventually. It is uneducated boys who drift hopelessly to the cities. The boy trained in a good agricultural college will always have a place open to his abilities, for as Mr. Carnegie once said: "The world is always on the hunt for men with educated minds and trained hands." This agricultural education is the hope of the South, whether the boys go back directly to the farm or not, for they will be a force in the advancement of the work wherever they go.

Alachua county's public schools were never in better financial condition than they are at the present time, and for this condition of affairs too much credit cannot be given Dr. J. L. Kelley, the worthy superintendent of county schools. When he went into the office an enormous debt stood as a menace to the school interests, but through his indefatigable efforts and business sagacity, in which he had the hearty co-operation of every member of the school board, the school fund now has a balance to its credit instead of a deficit. The people are certainly to be congratulated upon the present condition of the public schools.

The list to date of ten killed and over one hundred wounded reads more like the casualty returns from a field of battle than a field of sports. Yet a football field is practically a battle field as the game is now played. No one wants our sports to be tame, and a spice of danger in them gives zest. But the sooner that the kicking of contestants and other brutalities are done away with the better will it be for the game itself and for those who play it.

The lust for wealth often leads people to fall a prey to gold-brick men, green goods men and other knaves. That is one of the penalties they pay for wanting to make money too fast and without regard to honesty.

Thoughtlessness is no excuse for wrong doing. Many people because they say "I didn't think," in explanation of some injurious act they have done, imagine that such a statement relieves them of all blame.

ADVERTISING THAT PAYS.

The movement to prevent the disfiguring of scenery by huge advertising signs deserves success. That such signs do mar the landscape and are offensive to everyone who has any sense of beauty, few will question. As a business experiment they are not a success. Investigation proves that of all forms of advertising they produce the poorest results, while newspaper advertising produces the best.

This is not to be wondered at. The making and painting of signs is expensive, and when made the wording remains unchanged. For that reason the novelty soon wears away and they attract no attention except by their unsightliness.

With newspaper advertising it is different. The paper goes regularly into the home to be read by all. Everyone reads the ads and knows exactly what they represent. The advertiser changes the style and working of his ad whenever he pleases and is therefore able in attractive ways to acquaint the public with the character and variety of his goods and with the special bargains he has to offer from time to time. Therefore far above all other forms of advertising the local paper is the best medium for bringing the buyer and the seller together.

Many men are good but not great, some are great, as the world sometimes estimates greatness, but not good. Not everyone can achieve greatness, but goodness is within reach of all, and it is that rather than greatness the world most needs. Fortunately in this land of ours we not unoften find true greatness and goodness combined in the one individual. When that is the case his fellow men are quick to do him honor and when at last he goes over to the "silent majority" his memory is so cherished and his influence so continued that it may truly be said of him, "he being dead yet speaketh."

People who recline idly on soft cushions, who spend their days in kill-time pursuits and feasting and who are waited upon by a host of menials are oftentimes envied. Rather are they to be pitied. The man or woman who engages in labor, however humble, is doing far more for humanity than they, and they get a thousand-fold more real enjoyment and satisfaction out of life.

Some people have so high opinion of themselves and so little of the ability of others that they make the mistake of thinking that what they cannot do no one else can.

Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Mrs. J. L. Warren of Starke, Fla., says: "For some time I was a victim of kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, causing me the greatest annoyance and I suffered constantly from backaches and dull pains through the kidneys. I could not rest well and in the morning arose feeling tired and worn out. My back became very lame and I often found it difficult to get around. I at length read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. Since using them, I have been free from backaches and the soreness and lameness has disappeared. The annoyance from the kidney secretions also ceased and I am able to sleep well. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me wonderfully and I can recommend them as the best kidney remedy I ever used."

A family of children, after the usual Saturday night romps, gathered in the drawing room for music and singing. As bedtime drew near the mother said:

"Now, children, choose one hymn to finish up with, and then you must all say 'Good night.'"

"Let's have 'Ere Again Our Sabbath Close,'" suggested a bright little girl of about seven years of age.

"Well, I think that would be more suitable tomorrow evening," replied the mother.

"Oh, but you always air our Sabbath clothes on Saturdays, mummy!"—London Tatler.

A Hot Spot.

"I believe that Monterey, Mexico, is the hottest spot in the world in the daytime," said an Arizona man. "I have seen the thermometer register as high as 120 degrees in the late afternoon. It was so hot that the natives who ventured on the streets would hug the foot wide shade of the low buildings like lichen clings to tree bark. But here's the funny part of it: When the sun sets it begins to cool off, and at night it is positively necessary to sleep under blankets. The nights are delightfully cool, and I presume it is because one is able to get a good sleep that it is possible to live in that climate."—Washington Post.

CONGRESSMAN CLARK

Favors Appropriation for Exposition Celebrating Discovery of Florida.

Hon. Frank Clark, Congressman from this district, arrived in the city last night and is making the Florida House headquarters while here. He will leave this evening for Jacksonville and as his time here is brief he is kept busy shaking hands with his hosts of friends.

Mr. Clark, who has always been a staunch friend of St. Augustine, is very much in favor of a Government building for this city and stated that he would exert his efforts and influence to secure an appropriation for a building at the coming session of Congress. Relative to the Ponce de Leon Exposition in 1913, celebrating the discovery of Florida, Mr. Clark expresses the belief that a substantial appropriation from Uncle Sam will be secured if his efforts will bring it. He is heartily in favor of the proposed exposition and in his speech at the first celebration several years ago suggested the advisability of an exposition of international scope, pledging his services to the project. His position is unchanged and he will ask for an appropriation at the next session of Congress.—St. Augustine Record, 8th.

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Gardiner, Maine.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease and weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation but I could not bear to think of it. "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R.F.D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

So. West Harbor, Me.—"I suffered for years with painful periods, backache, headaches, nervousness; irregularities and inflammation. I consulted two physicians and one advised me to have an operation.

"I was completely discouraged when I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me a well woman. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Lillian Robbins, South West Harbor, Me.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ABOARD A SUBMARINE.

The Crew, the Work and the Kind of Life the Men Lead.

Life aboard a submarine is not so unpleasant or dangerous as one might imagine, but it is entirely different from that led on other types of ships.

The crew, usually consisting of two officers and fourteen men, is selected from volunteers after a most rigid medical examination. Service rarely extends beyond a period of two years, and real work on a submarine is limited to about three weeks in the summer and one in the winter. During the remainder of the time the men live on a "parent" ship or on shore. The boat is, however, put through the various evolutions once every week.

The first impression on entering a submarine is one of heat, the air being rather close and heavy, but the men soon become accustomed to it. Standing room space is about six and one-half feet, and toward both ends the boat tapers away almost to a point. There are no portholes. The hatchway in the conning tower is the only aperture. Under water electric light is used. There are ventilators, but when the boat dives they are shut off with a cap.

Life on board a submarine is essentially "in common." The way men and many objects are crammed together in a narrow space is almost miraculous.

Cooking is done in an electric oven, and no foods which have a strong or disagreeable smell are used. Of course smoking is allowed only when on the surface and then on the bridge. Owing to the character of the men selected discipline is perfect.

There is scarcely any noise in a submarine when submerged. The greatest depth the boat descends does not exceed thirty feet. At that depth her speed is about 8 knots. The air is quite "breathable" for four hours, but in case of emergency the crew can remain closed in for seventy hours without danger.

The men love the life. With the officers they are as one family, sharing everything equally, including the dangers, which are not much to speak of, provided every one does his duty. When the weather is fair there is very little rolling. In rough weather the men escape knocking about by holding on to "steadying lines."—New York Press.

Puzzling Orchid Imitations.

Orchid imitations are a puzzle to flower scholars. The whole appearance of the flower is suggestive of some insect, sometimes to quite a remarkable degree. It does not seem easy to find any real purpose that could be served by this resemblance, yet no one imagines that it can be accidental. Any one who knew of the bee orchid, a native of Europe, and came upon it for the first time would at once recognize it. It seems to be a large, velvety brown backed bee variegated with yellow. The two petals might serve well for the wings of the insect. In the center of the lip of the fly orchid there is a small bluish spot like the body of a fly. The two lateral petals are slender and curiously like the antennae of an insect. The whole illusion is complete and suggests to the casual glance that a few flies are hanging on the stem of some plant which has cast its flowers.—Chicago Tribune.

Why She Posed.

As a New York photographer bowed a sallow, tottering woman of middle age out of his studio he closed the door gently and turned to a waiting customer.

"That beats the Dutch," said he. "There's a woman who has been in bed two weeks and whose doctor supposes she is there at this moment. She is convinced that she is near death, and as she hasn't had any picture of herself taken since she was a child she got out of bed despite a friend's protest, dressed and came here to sit to me in order that she may leave a photograph to her husband, who is a traveling man and now in the far west.

"When a woman will she will. But that's a queer gamble with the big shadow, all right."—New York Globe.

Ours and Theirs.

"A play on names unconsciously perpetrated by my youngest son was very funny," said a Flatbush man yesterday. "We live next door to a family named Feltenour, and the other night while my family was busy reading in the library we heard a racket on the back porch. My son went out to investigate, and on his return my wife, always inquisitive, asked what had caused the noise.

"'Nothin' but a couple of cats,' Jim told her, and then I heard her ask, 'Did you see whose they were?'

"'Yes; one was ours and the other was Feltenour's.'"—New York Press.

JURIES IN ENGLAND.

They Get Through Their Work Quickly and With Little Fuss.

The working of the British jury system exhibits a marked contrast with that of our own. It is possible that my experience in British courts was exceptional, but in not a single instance did I see a juror challenged or rejected. In all of the courts requiring juries the necessary number of men were present, and they were sworn in without question. In the sheriff's deputy court in Scotland the presiding judge gave notice to the jury that he expected to adjourn the court at 2 o'clock and stated that if they could all remain until that hour he would at once dismiss the men who had been called for a second panel. The jurors conferred together and decided to remain till 1 o'clock, whereupon the judge notified the other men to appear at 12:30. The one jury impaneled for the morning session rendered six verdicts in cases involving prosecutions for thefts, fraud and burglary.

In the court of quarter sessions at Taunton, England, I saw a single jury in one day render eleven verdicts. I found that it was customary in the several sorts of court that I attended for the same jury to act in successive cases. In no instance did I see a jury leave their seats to make up their verdict. Usually the issue before them was made so plain that all who gave attention knew in advance what the decision would be. I made note of an exceptional instance of delay when the court was forced to wait nine minutes for the report of the jury. In this case the judge who gave the instructions was himself in doubt as to what the verdict ought to be.

A Scottish jury consists of fifteen persons, and a majority may render a verdict. In England the number is twelve, and unanimity is required. But I noted no difference as to practical results in the two countries. The twelve men in the English jury were as prompt and certain in their action as were the eight out of fifteen in the Scottish jury.—McClure's Magazine.

"Dear me," exclaimed the lady, "that's twice you have dropped that cut glass pitcher within five minutes!"

"I know it, ma'am," replied the maid, "but it didn't break the first time."—Chicago Record-Herald.

CUTICURA CURED CHIEF OF POLICE

Canadian Officer Poisoned by Weeds —Eczema Developed and Legs Became Scaly—Ankles were Very Sore and Itchy — For Weeks He Could Not Wear Shoes.

FREED FROM ITCHING BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been successfully cured of dry eczema. I was inspecting the removal of noxious weeds, it being part of my duty, from the edge of a river and was constantly in the dust from the weeds. At night I shook out my trousers and cleansed my limbs, but felt a prickly sensation. I paid no attention to it for two years, but I noticed a scum on my legs like fish scales. I could scrape it off, and yet I did not attend to it until it came to be too itchy and sore and began getting two running sores. My ankles were all sore and scabby and I could not wear shoes. I had to use carpet and felt slippers for weeks. I was then on particular police duty and was compelled to be on duty. I got a cake of the Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. In less than ten days I could put on my boots and in less than three weeks, though on duty all the time, I was free from the confounded itching. I tell you frankly that Cuticura saved me from what the doctors called a bad leg. Capt. George P. Bliss, Chief of Police, Morris, Manitoba, Mar. 20, 1907, and Sept. 24, 1908."

Enjoying Himself.

A fond mother sent her small boy into the country and after a week of anxiety received the following letter:

"I got here all right, and I forgot to write before. It is a very nice place to have fun. A fellow and I went out in a boat, the boat tipped over, and a man got me out, and I was so full of water that I didn't know nothin' for a long while.

"The other boy has to be buried when they find him. His mother came from her home, and she cried all the time. A horse kicked me over, and I have got to have some money to pay the doctor for mendin' my head. It was broken a bit.

"We are goin' to set an old barn on fire tonight, and I am not your son if I don't have some real fun. I lost my watch, and I am very sorry. I shall bring home some snakes and a toad, and I shall bring home a lams crow if I can get 'em in my trunk."—London Globe.

Selling by Candle Time.

"It did me good," observed a young girl who had just returned from England, "to see in real life one of the old customs my grandfather used to tell me about—the burning of the time candle at an auction. In Berkshire the old custom still prevails, and when an auction is in progress and an article is put up for bidding a short length of candle is lighted as the bidding begins. The shouting continues until the candle burns out, and the last bid before it flickers its last is the one that takes the cake. I don't know but what it has an advantage over the 'Going, going, gone!' variety, but it is fearfully slow and un-American."—Exchange.

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, citrus and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with congregations which are superior to any city of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warrior's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, live at home and board at the same place. The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 4

The Hen and the Doorknob

By Herbert Kaufman

Once upon a time there was a fool hen who sat on a china doorknob for three weeks expecting to get a family. The only thing she did get was experience.

The advertising field is full of "china doorknob propositions"—examples of merchants who expect good newspapers to hatch money out of bad egg business, or who put sound nest eggs under the wrong "advertising hen."

There are three principles to follow in an advertising campaign: First of all, find a business that will stand advertising; secondly, find the newspaper that will make the advertising pay; thirdly, give the newspaper time to pay.

You can't start in to breed dollars in less time than it takes to hatch them any more than you can pull a hen off the nest before she has had a chance to incubate. In both cases you simply waste what has been invested. If you stop too soon you will get a rotten egg instead of a chicken.

Advertise something out of which you may reasonably expect returns, and when you have found what to advertise, take care that you place your copy in a newspaper that can turn the trick. Don't delude yourself with a china doorknob, and don't confuse a "rooster newspaper," which spends its time cock-a-loruming, for a "hen newspaper" that is too busy hatching out dollars to strut about crowing.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.
